

AMCOM CIO/G-6

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER

MISSION: Maximize AMCOM life cycle management command's readiness posture by delivering collaborative and secure information management and technology business solutions and services.

The U.S. Army Aviation and Missile Command CIO/G6 maximizes AMCOM's readiness posture by delivering collaborative and secure information management and technology business solutions and services.

Information Management Program:

Responsible for managing AMCOM's information resources and information technology in accordance with United States Codes, Federal Statutes and Department of Defense and Department of the Army regulatory guidance

Examples of functions:

- Enterprise Architecture
- IT Governance
- Strategic Planning
- Privacy Program
- IT Capital Planning and Investment Strategy
- Engineering Data Management Services
- Business Process Improvement
- Electronic Meeting Facilitation
- Records Management
- Freedom of Information Act
- IT Acquisition Management

Information Technology:

Provide information technology support and services in support of the Command's mission business systems and networks

Examples of functions:

- Software Engineering Services
- Commercial off-the-Shelf Software
- SharePoint Collaboration Solutions
- System Administration
- Database Administration

Cyber Security:

Manage Cyber Security services in support of the Command's mission business systems and networks

Examples of functions:

- Information Assurance Vulnerability Management
- Vulnerability Assessments
- Risk Management Framework
- Cyber Workforce Training and Certification
- Incident Handling and Spillage Management

